Economy in medicine must be measured by two things—cost and effect. It cannot be measured by either alone. It is greatest in that medicine that does the most for the money—that radically and permanently cures at the least expense. That medicine is

SPRINKLE

All Streets at City's Expense.

The Williams Bill Has Been Made a Law.

Columbus, O., May 7.—The Senate has made a law of the Williams street sprinkling bill. It provides that when 35 per cent of the electors on any street petition for the city to sprinkle streets, the Council may, by a two-thirds vote, order the street sprinkled and the cost assessed against the general duplicate of the city.

The result is expected to be the sprinkling of all city streets at the expense of the city.

A LUCKY MAN.

He Who Can Eat and Enjoy All Food Set Before Him.

How often we hear some say, "I can eat anything."

He is only blessed whose stomach is strong and healthy, but the stomach cannot long remain in this condition if it is abused. "The constant drop of water will wear away the hardest stone," and the constant abuse of the stomach will, in time, render it weak and impair the whole system. Health is too precious to be trifled with. It is far easier to keep the stomach strong than to build it up after it has become diseased.

Extreme care should be taken in the selection of food and its preparation. Few cooks take the pains to properly prepare cereal foods. Wheat contains all the elements of nutrition needed by the human system, but it must be skillfully treated before it is fit for the stomach.

A large per cent of starch is found in wheat and other cereals, and when this has been converted into dextrin by being submitted to heat for five hours, it renders it easy of digestion, and brings out all the available nutrition.

The pre-digested food, Malt-Nut, is treated in this manner, the process of manufacture giving it a rich, nutty flavor. Chemical analysis shows that one pound of Malt-Nut contains as much food elements as four pounds of beef.

The athlete, invalid, or babe who enjoys a rich, dainty, and delicious meal will find a few spoonfuls of Malt-Nut with the addition of milk or cream, the most enjoyable dish it has ever been their pleasure to eat.

It requires no cooking, a meal being ready in a second at a cost of one cent a person. It can also be served hot in three minutes.

BARBERTON

Is the Money Coming From?

Street Paving Raises an Interest Question.

(Special Correspondence.)

Barberton, May 7.—There is considerable speculation in Barberton over the street paving and how the city will come out in the matter of paying for the work, as no provision has been made by the Council to meet the city's share of the expense, though the contract has been let, and the work of excavating is now under way. The city is to pay one-fifth of the total assessment and for the paving of all street intersections. The balance is to be divided between the street railway company and the property owners along the streets. As yet the assessment of the property owners is the only one provided for as the Council has made no arrangements to meet its share and the N. O. T. Company declares it will meet its assessment in 10 payments or not at all. This arrangement is not satisfactory to the Council, which desires the N. O. T. company's assessment in one bunch.

In the meantime people are speculating on the outcome and the work of paving goes merrily on.

TWO HUNDRED

Laborers Are at Work on Streets of Barberton.

Barberton, May 7.—Messrs. Paul & Henry, the contractors, have been unable to secure enough workmen in the Magie City and were compelled to import 25 Italian laborers from Cleveland, Tuesday. This makes 125 men now employed on the streets and sewers of Barberton by this firm. Counting the employees of Wildes & Son, there are nearly 200 laborers employed on Barberton's streets. The 25 laborers brought here from Cleveland have been furnished a house on Baird ave., by the firm which employed them.

RINGLINGS'

The Next Big Arenic Event.

Whole Show Has Been Reconstructed This Year.

Ringling Brothers' world's greatest shows will exhibit in Akron again, Tuesday, May 27. People do not need to be reminded of the magnitude and high character of this show, for its reputation as the largest, most complete and best conducted circus, menagerie and hippodrome in the world is universal. Its admirers in this vicinity will, however, be interested in learning that the management has not only kept up the former high standard of the show, but has also organized for the present season the largest and most comprehensive traveling exhibition ever known. The great show has been entirely reconstructed, while the list of performers, in every department, has been so completely changed as to make this year's program new in every essential particular. There are new acts, new artists and new spectacular displays, and every civilized land the world over has been placed under tribute to secure the latest and most novel arenic features. The exhibition opens with the most gorgeous and unique display of horsemanship ever seen in America. Perhaps the most fitting way to describe this beautiful act is to call it a military horse ballet. It is given under the immediate direction of John O'Brien, the greatest of all great horse trainers. A splendid triple-ring circus performance follows. Among the artists are many who have never before been seen in this country, but whose names and achievements are known throughout the world. In the list of famous acrobats are the Nelson family of 10 unequalled artists; the Roberts family, the Pettits, the Dohlan Brothers, the Leon Sisters and the great contortionists, Genero and Theol, and Ethardo. The aerialists are led by the wonderful Duabar trio, direct from Australia; the Holloway trio, high-wire acrobats; the Banvarda, the Tybell Sisters, Nettie Carroll and the Mikado's Own Troupe of Japanese equilibristas from Jeddo. The riding surpasses anything in the equestrian line ever before attempted. Among the great riders are the Hobsons, the Schadeis, John and Michael Rooney, Albert and Madame Davenport, Reno McCre, May Davenport, Julia Lowande and Albert Crandall. The trained animal section of the

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

Digests
what you Eat

You can best succeed in life with a good digestion. A strong stomach makes a vigorous man. The feeling of languor, the dull headache, the sensation of fullness, pains and tenderness in the region of the stomach, flatulence, belching and vomiting, the thousand and one symptoms of indigestion or other stomach trouble, of which most of us know more or less, unfit both body and mind for hard work or continuous application. You wouldn't suffer like that if you knew a certain remedy, would you? Yet such a remedy exists. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure quickly relieves all these symptoms, and, by giving the stomach entire rest, speedily cures the disease itself.

Even among the happy possessors of comparatively sound stomachs there are few who are not at least occasional sufferers. Irregular hours, mild dissipation, excessive use of tobacco, hasty eating or overindulgence in a favorite dish frequently produce as unpleasant though not as lasting results as the most serious of chronic cases. If these temporary sufferers realized that Kodol Dyspepsia Cure offered sure and almost immediate relief how many would neglect to keep it constantly in the house?

You can go about your business and disregard a pain in any other part of the body. But stomach trouble prostrates. The stomach supplies the entire system. If it fails to perform its task these supplies are cut off—and we cannot live without food. We all know this, but haven't we fallen into the error of assuming that, once swallowed, food has accomplished the purpose for which it was eaten? It hasn't, by any means. Until it is properly digested the system cannot assimilate it. It remains in the stomach until it decomposes and might far better not have been eaten at all.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests this food without aid from the stomach and digests it as well as the stomach itself could do the work. Through its aid the food you have eaten is reduced to a form in which the system can assimilate it and the body is built up while the tired stomach rests.

The trouble with dyspeptics is that they're starving. They have eaten but their food is undigested and consequently does them no good. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure not only relieves the patient's sufferings in such cases but also removes the cause of suffering. It relieves by digesting the patient's food and enabling his system to transform it into bone and muscle, blood and brain. It cures by allowing the stomach rest until it is restored to its natural condition.

If the stomach is out of order not an organ of the body escapes some corresponding derangement. There are few diseases which cannot be traced directly to the stomach. If the stomach is weak the body is weak. If the stomach is strong, the entire body is strong.

None of us want to suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia but the hurry and nervous tension of the times have made them the commonest complaints of the generation. Often we eat too fast, too soon after or too shortly before violent physical exercise or severe mental strain. Sometimes we are too busy to eat at all at the proper time and overload our stomachs when the opportunity comes. For awhile the abused organ stands the strain. Finally it collapses.

It gives the stomach perfect rest.

Dear Sirs:—I have suffered a great deal from nervous dyspepsia for the last twelve months. I tried two doctors who said they could not cure me, but your agent came along and I bought some Kodol Dyspepsia Cure to sell, and decided to try it myself and I found more relief from that than anything I have taken. I eat anything I want to and improve every day and it has given my customers perfect satisfaction.

I can heartily recommend it to all that are suffering from indigestion or dyspepsia to be the best remedy on the market. Yours truly, J. W. Smith, Preston, N. C.

Gentlemen:—For the sake of suffering dyspeptics I render this testimonial. After suffering thirteen years from indigestion (neuralgia of the stomach and all its multiform troubles) and after receiving treatment from many doctors for the same, I was induced to try Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, buying my first bottle in March 1900. Since that time I have used nearly two dozen bottles—a proof of my faith in its virtue.

I have not had one pain since commencing its use. Sometimes I can go two or three days without using it and consider myself in a fair way toward permanent recovery. Fraternal yours, J. Iverson, Lonaconing, Md.

Gentlemen:—A few months ago I gave up hope of living and was in such agony from chronic indigestion that I prayed I might pass from my suffering. One day I learned of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and decided to try it. I had taken but one teaspoonful of it when the pain in my stomach ceased. That day I enjoyed a good meal for the first time in many months.

After taking three bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure I am as well as ever. It saved my life and I cannot recommend it too highly.—Mrs. Alva F. Crawford, Pittsburg, N. H.

Gentlemen:—I have been troubled with indigestion for ten years and have tried many things and spent much money till I tried Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. I have taken two bottles and have obtained more relief from them than from all the other medicines I ever used. I am now feeling better than I have been in five years and feel more like a boy than I have felt in twenty years.—Respectfully, Anderson Riggs, Sunny Lane, Tex.

Prepared by S. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. The $1.00 bottle contains 2½ times as much (by actual measurement) as the trial size which sells for 50 cents.

Cures all stomach troubles show presents Captain Wood's juggling seals, Prof. Wood's dog and pony circus and Pearl Souder's famous comedy elephant. Forty funny clowns contribute a wealth of comedy to the performance. The menagerie presents the only living giraffe and hundreds of other interesting and curious animals, including 20 elephants. The hippodrome races skillfully reproduce the exciting scenes of the old Roman amphitheatre, on a scale of magnitude not surpassed even in the days of Nero. The show will be given here in its entirety, and that means the biggest, best and most convincing circus performance ever seen in this city.

Dangerous If Neglected.

Burns, cuts and other wounds often fail to heal properly if neglected and become troublesome sores. DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve prevents such consequences. Even where delay has aggravated the injury DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve effects a cure. "I had a running sore on my leg for 30 years," says H. C. Hartly, Yanketown, Ind. "After using many remedies, I tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. A few boxes healed the sore." Cures all skin diseases. Piles yield to it at once. Beware of counterfeits.

THE BRIDE WHO WAS A COOK

Is Left in the Lurch at a Lima Hotel.

Lima, O., May 7.—Mrs. T. Bishop, formerly Susan E. Schuck, of Findlay, O., the aged cook who recently married T. Bishop, a reputed Mexican millionaire and mine owner and owner of the fine hotel at Guadalajara, is at the Lima house in tears waiting the return of her husband, who disappeared Saturday and has not yet been heard of. Bishop, according to the story of Mrs. Bishop, represented himself as being blind, and after they were married, told her that they would go to Chicago and purchase a wedding outfit, then go to their future Mexican home. Bishop, she says, told her that he had remitted ted Potter Palmer, the Chicago millionaire who died Monday, $500 by mistake and that they would stop off here until he received the money. Bishop was about the hotel Saturday, but disappeared during the afternoon and no trace of him can be found. His wife is left penniless and is being cared for by people about the hotel.

'NOTHER NAME

Must be Chosen For Chicago's Big New Bank.

Chicago, May 7.—The incorporators of the new Chicago Bank, with $2,000,000 capital, of which Isaac N. Perry is the president, have discovered that they cannot use the name of the National Bank of Commerce, which was selected. When they sought to incorporate under that name, it was found that a bank was incorporated under that name thirty years ago, and afterwards went into liquidation. The new bank will now be known as the National Bank of North America.

HOW HOT

It Is, or Was, Makes a Demand For Thermometers.

"From now on we shall sell lots of thermometers," said a salesman in a Main st. store yesterday. "Twice a year we have a run on them—in the spring or early summer, when the weather begins to get warm, and during the first cold snap of winter. People only think of thermometers—that is, the average run of people—when it's either very warm or very cold. The few warm days this week, when it seemed as though summer had swooped down without warning, created a spasmodic demand for thermometers. But that was just a flurry. Now that the weather is just right to suit everybody no one wants to see what the temperature is. But wait till the first genuine hot spell comes along. Then we won't have enough to meet the demand."
